ompanies will find the ultimate retreat at Elswick House. Only 10 minutes from Aberdeen, it is surrounded by 150 acres of manicured gardens and parkland, complemented by all the technology and connectivity required by today's top executives.

Throughout the centuries the house has adapted and altered to the circumstances of the family and its fortunes. The rooms have hosted many parties and celebrations and entertained thousands of people over the years including royals. It is fitting therefore that it is now at the centre of entertaining once again.

Elsick House has 11 bedrooms sleeping 20 guests. All the bedrooms are unique, distinguishable by their own character and furnishings. Each with their own spectacular views of the gardens.

Any type of conference and corporate event can be arranged from senior management meetings, product launches, private dining to team building events. Blue sky thinking is invariably easier when the only distractions are the surrounding flora and fauna to stimulate and motivate.

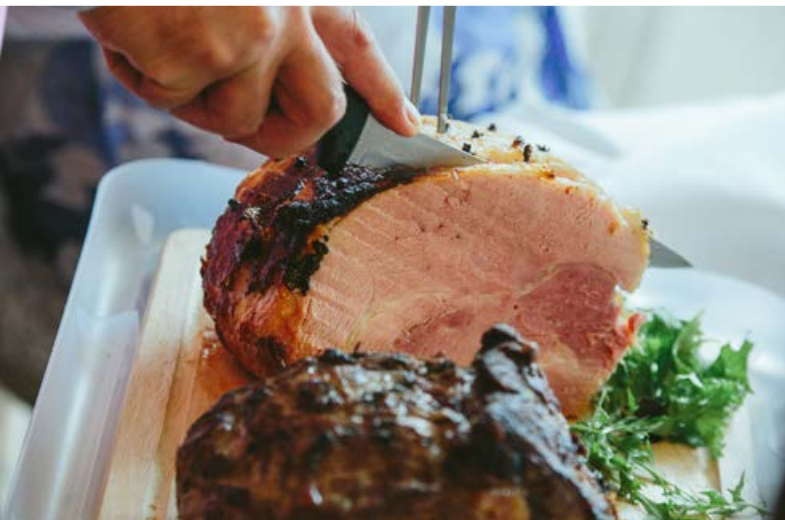

The garden is naturally divided making it ideal for family fun days or team building activities. The combination of waterways, interesting topography, open fields and woodland make excellent areas for team building challenges such as Segways, 4x4 driving, archery and clay shooting. Our team can also arrange golfing; Royal Aberdeen, Carnoustie and St Andrews are all easily accessible from Elswick House. There are also fishing and equestrian activities nearby.

The house is equipped with good IT access. A projector and screen, A-boards and televisions are available for all meetings. The dining room makes the perfect boardroom, the casual seating in the drawing room and study mean they are ideal additional break out spaces.

We are proud to have chosen Hudsons Catering to be a partner in this venture as we know that they understand and can interpret each individual client's needs. As a company they have looked after the family for over 30 years and we are happy to continue with that fruitful partnership.

The essential ingredients of any great gathering are ambience, efficiency of service and food; assuming, of course, that you have provided the guests! We guarantee that we have the first three elements. For further information on corporate and private events at Elsie House please contact us on house@elsick.co.uk.
